SPECIAL GUESTS AND WORKSHOPS

Pam Kohler-Camp is a potter who will be leading us in making pottery, and she will use that process to help us reflect spiritually on how God molds us. Pam's studio is called "And Sarah Laughed," because just as Sarah in the Bible was told she would begin again by having a baby, Pam, who was an accountant, has begun again by giving new life to her art through pottery. Pam makes pottery for everyday use, finding inspiration from the love and support of her family, her Celtic heritage, and the beauty of nature. For Pam, "every pot is a prayer, as God led me to be in this place, using my art for God's purpose." Pam is also an EFM mentor and an active member at St. Matthew' in Snellville.

Other Workshops will be offered on such topics as curriculum, resources and creative lesson examples. There will also networking & idea-sharing opportunities, as well as time for experiencing worship in new ways.

Mold & Be Molded
